A LIST of the Names of those who AUDACIOUSLY continue to counteract the UNITED SENTIMENTS of the BODY of Merchants thro'out NORTH-AMERICA; by importing British Goods contrary to the Agreement.

John Bernard,
James McMasters & Comp'y.
John Mein,

Messieurs EDES & GILL,

WEIGHT and measure is what every man desires, and has a right to expect from his neighbours; all wise nations provide against impositions in this respect; perhaps there is no nation that has better laws to guard the subject than the British, but it is a general observation, that for want of due attention to the execution of them, as much fraud is practised among us as in many barbarous nations—In this town (Boston) we are very strict in the articles of wood, charcoal, sea coal, hay, salt, bread, &c. &c. from which we receive great benefit, but there are some articles which are bought by a general confidence in the honesty of the seller, such as lump butter, and milk; I acknowledge the former is often tried and the cheat detected, but as to milk I don't remember to have heard of the measures being scrupled, but I take this opportunity, to warn the public that in this particular there is prodigious cheating; I am furnished with sealed measures, and have for this year or two made observations on the measures that are brought to my door with milk, fruit, &c. and very many of them I have been curious enough to compare with mine, and I find but very few that hold full measure; and tho' the deficiency is not worth notice in buying a quart of cherries or plumbs, yet it is very material in the article of milk in which the poor are nearly concerned, for I really believe from the observations that I have made that most of the quart and pint measures which come to market are from 5 to 7½ per cent deficient, from whence I conclude that this town is daily cheated 40 or 50 gallons of milk or some other merchandize of equal value, which amounts to about £.4000 Old Tenor a year.——If this subject is worthy attention, I should recommend that no tin-man be allowed to make and sell any tin pots of the appearance of quart and pint pots but what have pass'd the seal of the town. Your's,

GOOD-MEASURE.

PHILADELPHIA, October 19.

To the Printers of the PENSYLVANIA JOURNAL.

AN anecdote just published by Mr. Laurens of South Carolina, may serve to shew the danger, that is likely to result to America from the late Revenue Acts, passed by the Parliament of Great-Britain. Our property is thereby not only taken from us without our consent, but, when thus taken, is applied still farther to oppress & ruin us. The swarms of searchers, tide-waiters, spies, and other underlings, with which every port in America now abound, and which were unknown, before the board of Commissioners was established among us, are not, it seems quite sufficient to ruin our trade, but infamous informers, like dogs of prey thirsting after the fortunes of worthy and wealthy men, are let loose and encouraged to seize and libel in the courts of admiralty the vessels of such as are advocates for the rights of America. If they can find any colour of pretence, the Judge, who is dependent on the will of the Minister, and paid at his pleasure out of the American customs, is ready to pass sentence of condemnation; but if the vessel is acquitted, no loss or inconvenience is to accrue to the prosecutor. For if he is sued and damages recovered against him, these damages are paid out of the American Revenue.

This we find the case with one Roupell of Charlestown, South-Carolina. He seized and libelled a vessel of Mr. Laurens. The vessel was acquitted, because as the Judge said, there was not the least colour of pretence, that she was concerned in any illicit trade. Hereupon Mr. Laurens, to deter others from the like villainous practices, sued Roupell, and obtained a verdict against him for £.1400, (that is about £.200 Sterl.) for damages sustain'd by his unjust seizure of the vessel. But to his mortification Mr. Laurens found, that instead of making an example of this infamous informer and prosecutor, these damages were paid to him out of the plunder of his country. Roupell himself, five months after the verdict, when called on for the money, expressed his hopes of obtaining an order from the commissioners, to pay it out of the American Revenue, and therefore prayed an indulgence for two months longer. And Mr. Laurens declares, "He has been well informed, means were devised for o-"pening the American chest, and a sufficient sum for the "purpose drawn from hence. Thus, (as he pertinently "observes) are arms and ammunition unconstitutionally "levied upon us, and reserved as weapons for our de-"struction." As the extract of proceedings, &c. p. 43. 54.

In the House of Representatives of the Colony of Connecticut, convened at New-Haven 3d Thursday of October 9th George III. 1769.

RESOLVED,

THAT this House do highly approve the Conduct of the Merchants of the Massachusetts-Bay, Connecticut, New-York, Pennsylvania, and all the other Colonies, who, in these critical Times, have made so noble a stand, to save the Liberties of this Country, by refusing to import several British Manufactures, until the Revenue Laws are repealed; thereby sacrificing their private Fortunes to the Cause of Liberty, from such truly patriotic Views, as ought to transmit their Memories with distinguished Honor, to the latest Posterity—and ordered, That the Clerk of the House be directed to cause a Copy of this Resolve to be published in the several News Papers in this Colony. Test. WILLIAM WILLIAMS, Clerk.

To the King of Great-Britain.

Great SIR,

YOUR Kingdom is like an House divided against itself.—Something Extraordinary must be done. Our Parliaments for fifty Years past, (or some of them) have ruined the Nation, in making a monstrous Debt, by hiring Money, while greater Sums have been expended in Pride and Luxury. Thirteen Hundred Thousand Pounds Sterling, the Public Prints tells us, is paid annually to the Dutch as Interest Money. My Advice is, that all Rulers and Officers, who have high Salaries, drop them, except so much as is necessary for plain Living. * And that all unnecessary Pensions cease, together with military Officers half Pay †; and that high Taxes, very high, be laid on all Pride and Luxury, where ever it is found, the Clergy and the Women not excepted: And that great Taxes be laid on the Rich. I have an Income of but about eight Pounds Sterling a Year, including my own Hands Labour; nevertheless, I am freely willing to pay one quarter Part of it in Taxes till my Public Debts are paid. Others that have two Hundred a Year, can with Ease pay one half of it in Taxes, if need be. Pay thy Debts, owe no Man any Thing, is Law, DIVINE and MORAL. Immoral Men are in the Road that leads to Hell; if they attend Public Worship, they are Hypocrites, like the Scribes and Pharisees, of whom Christ said, ye are of your Father the Devil. If I understand the Apostle, when such Men sit or kneel at a Communion Table, it is a Table of Devils to them. Pray, Sir, tell your Placemen, that the vast Multitude of your Subjects are very uneasy that so much of the Public Money, when raised, is sunk in the Gulph of Exorbitances. My Governor, Mr. Francis Bernard, demands a thousand Pounds Sterling a Year; one half of that Sum is more than enough, especially as the Nation is ready to sink with the Weight of its Public Debt. The Clergy can tell their Congregations, that the New Testament rather reproves than commands the wearing of costly Array, and faring sumptuously every Day: And I may venture to tell my Readers, that all those who neglect taking a conscientious Care to pay their Debts, private Debts, as well as publick, are in the high Way to Destruction; the Commoners of the Sin don't abate the Malignity of it.

P. S. Your Majesty sees how diligent Governor Nemiah was in reforming what was amiss in Israel. He was obliged indeed to contend with the Nobles and the Rulers who opposed him, but he subdued them, and no wonder! Because he feared God, and not Man.

From a loyal Subject of my King, and a sincere Friend to his Kingdom. TIMOTHY PICKERING.

* Samuel had more Honour in his plain living, with his upright Mind, than Saul had in all his Princely Grandeur.

† How unequal are our Ways; Those Officers must have large Half Pay, while the common Soldiers are not allowed small Half-Pay, who have been exposed generally to greater Hardships than their Officers. Either let all have Half-Pay, or none. The Soldiers are to be respected as well as their Officers, and are as necessary.

Messieurs EDES & GILL,

LORD Clarendon observes that "if those who MISLEAD Kings, or obey them in UNJUST RESOLUTIONS, were to be exempt from Punishment, all Kingdoms and Governments must be DISSOLVED"—And another says "when they who should punish, SUPPORT those attrocious offenders, they betray the most SACRED trust; and their Infamy can be exceded by nothing but the Dangers of their Country, occasioned by the Men whose CORRUPTION and inabilities have caused our DOMESTICK and AMERICAN Maladies.

Mr. Trenchard says, "In all ages and parts of the World, a STANDING ARMY has been the never failing instrument of enslaving a nation."

"The Romans were sparing of Blood: Their gentleness will never be blamed unless by those who are pleas'd with nothing so much as the fury of those Monsters, who with the ruin of the best part of mankind usurped the Dominion of that glorious city." Sidney.

Richard II. with the aid of 4000 profligate archers made himself ABSOLUTE! and "Charles II being encouraged at, in keeping a few (additional) guards, he insensibly increased their number, till he left a body of Men to his successor James, great enough to tell THE PARLIAMENT he would be no longer bound by the laws he had SWORN to.

"From the day you set up a STANDING ARMY you set up YOUR OWN MASTERS; you put yourselves WHOLLY into their hands, and are at THEIR DISCRETION. It is the CONQUEST of a nation in the silentest, SHORTEST and SUREST way. They are ABLE to dispose of your lives and estates at WILL and PLEASURE; and what can a foreign Conqueror do more! If the destruction of us and our posterity be of ourselves, that reflection hereafter will have a sting in it; and it will not be enough to say who would have thought it!" A speech in parliament 1697.

Even in the time of King WILLIAM the deliverer of the nation from slavery, the SOLDIERY were greatly reduced at the conclusion of the war with France; and it was observed in parliament that "if they could be kept from OPPRESSING the people, in a little time they would grow HABITUAL to us and almost become a PART of our CONSTITUTION, and by degrees we should be brot to believe them not only NOT DANGEROUS but NECESSARY (as a certain great man lately declared they were in this town) "every body sees, but few understand; and those few will never be able to perswade the multitude that there is any danger in those men they have lived quietly with for some years"— Speech in parliament 1697.

"WE EXRECT it from you to endeavor by all means possible to procure a REDUCTION OF THE TROOPS.—In times of peace they can answer no one GOOD end it may be a dangerous PRECEDENT"— Instructions of the city of London 1722.

"The repeal of the RIOT ACT is a point we recommend to you in the most earnest and pressing manner; because we apprehend that act to be a great discouragement of the SPIRIT which has hitherto enabled us to be so considerable a nation, & which in our opinion is essential to our being a FREE PEOPLE.———Idem.

* Mr. Bollan.

Messieurs EDES & GILL,

IN a late PROCLAMATION upon a very extraordinary Occasion, the PROCLAIMER says, he PROCLAIMS "by and with the unanimous Advice of his Majesty's Council."

QUERE. As the good People of England, particularly the Ministry, by whom said PROCLAMATION may possibly be read, know the constitutional Number of Council for the Massachusetts-Bay to be met by the word unanimous, may they not misapprehend, and think there were at least a majority of that number present, when said Extra Proc. was advised? Whereas it is said, without doors, that there were but 7 present,—the smallest number that can make a Council.

Without being a Wizard, the good design of the word unanimous may be seen through, as well as that of issuing the Proc: itself.

It seems that the Mob, or unlawful Assembly, order'd the terrify'd Inhabitants to put out Lights in their Windows, Lights that frighten the Gentiles, &c.

Saturday last arrived here Capt. Calef from London, which Place he left the 2d of September; from the public Prints we have extracted the few Articles following, viz.

LONDON, August 27.

Though the following is not literally a copy of the letter which has lately made such a noise at both ends of the town, yet it may be given as unexceptionable.

MY LORD,

IN matters of business, especially in the mercantile way, there is seldom any occasion for an apology. I am confident none will ever be expected where the stranger is announced as bringing in his hand an offer of 5000*l.*—To come immediately to the point, therefore, my Lord, I am to inform your Grace, that this sum is at your service, upon the reversion of the office of Clerk of the Crown for Jamaica, being settled on my son; and though when you see the mind at the bottom of this letter, you may possibly startle at such a proposal, I doubt not but when you have perused the inclosed affidavit you will be satisfied that this transaction will remain forever a secret between your Grace & me. Need I add, that however zealous I may have appeared in a cause I am much ashamed of, if I succeed in this affair, you will bind me and mine forever to your interest. I am,

Your Grace's most devoted and obedient servant.
S. VAUGHAN.

It is a pity that the friends of Lord Hillsborough could not prevail upon Mungo to tie up his Lordship from writing letters to the public news papers, and signing them with his name. We then, who do not know his Lordship, might easily persuade our selves, from the high office he holds under government, that his Lordship might have had a classical education, and that he could write a letter like a gentleman. Certainly the letters he has lately published here at home, as well as those he has written to Gage and Bernard, stink of the counter.

Aug. 29. By the last mails from Boston, almost incredible accounts are come over, setting forth, in glaring colours, the behaviour of the military, and the evasions practised to screen them from public justice. But as Sir F——s B——d has at last received his letters of recall, it is hoped, if he be the public American defaulter he is universally represented to be, that he will be rewarded as he deserves.

It is said the Freeholders of Yorkshire will confine their Petition of Grievances to three points only: First, The violation of Electional Rights; Secondly, The Internal Taxation of American Subjects; and thirdly, To the Adviser or Advisers of these two violent, unconstitutional, and despotic measures.

Aug. 30. Yesterday morning the Comet, was observed by Mr. Dunn, in St. James's-street, and found to be within nine degrees and 1-fourth of Aldebaran, and fourteen degrees and a-half of the Pleiades, in the southern part of Taurus.—Its Nucleus and Coma are remarkably well defined, and the whole extent of its tail more than fifteen degrees, reaching beyond Menkar in the jaw of the whale, and lying in a direct opposition to the Sun, and seems to be proceeding to its Perihelion.

Sept. 1. On Thursday evening the Right Hon. the Earl of Egmont arrived in town, and it is expected that he will again have a considerable employ in the administration.

The Popish Priest ordained at Quebec by a Bishop of Rome, is appointed a Missionary at Halifax, and has a salary of 100*l.* sterling settled on him for life. He has already made many converts. vid. pa. 787

Wednesday morning the Rev. Mr. George Whitefield, after preaching his farewel sermon at the Tabernacle, embarked on board this for Georgia.

MONTREAL, October 2.

The Small-Pox rages here with great Violence, and is extremely fatal, scarce a Day passes without six or seven Persons dying. It is to be hoped that the Fatality will soon cease, as the Canadian Inhabitants have at last approved of Innoculation, owing to the judicious Advice of their Clergy, and by seeing the easy and successful Suttonian Method practised here by Mr. Latham, Surgeon to the King's (or 8th) Regiment of Foot.

WILLIAMSBURG, October 19.

A gentleman from one of the frontier counties, informs us, that they are in daily apprehensions of an Indian war, in consequence of the late murders committed on those people. The Governor, Lord Botetourt, has published a proclamation offering a Reward for apprehending and bringing to justice Henry Judey, and John Ryan, of £.100 for each, and for each person concerned in assisting them £. 50.

NEW-YORK, November 6.

We hear from Westchester, that at the Fair held there last Week, a Man from the Jerseys, drank in two Hours, 17 Quarts of Cyder, and two Quarts of Rum, and to keep it down, eat only 100 Cakes.

About half past Eight last Friday Night, the Sugar House of Mr. John Cortlandt, in this City, took Fire, said to be occasioned by a Boy firing a Pistol into one of the Windows, by which Accident, about 12,000lb. of Loaf Sugar was entirely destroyed, tho' very little Damage done to the Sugar House, the Fire being soon extinguished, owing to the usual Alertness of the Inhabitants on such Occasions.

The Public are hereby informed,
That this Town is now entirely clear of the Small-Pox.
By Order of the Select-Men,

BOSTON, November 13.

THE Merchants of this Town have lately Agreed not to Import any Goods, some few Articles Excepted, from Great-Britain, until all the Revenue Acts are Repealed; a Subscription has been opened for this Purpose, and has been signed by all the Importers in Town, except Ten or Twelve who at present do not see their way clear to sign.

We hear the Importers by the John Galley, Thomas Allen, Master, who arrived here last Tuesday from London is very small.—That there are but few Articles on board but what are allowed of by the Merchants Agreement, and those in Town to whom they are Consigned have agreed to deliver to the Committee of Inspection.

We hear from Portsmouth, That last Saturday His Excellency JOHN WENTWORTH, Esq; was married to Mrs. FRANCES ATKINSON, Widow of the late THEODORE ATKINSON, Junr. Esq; of that Place.

We are informed, from undoubted Authority in England, that when the Commissioners fled to the Castle in Order to alarm the Ministry, and to obtain Troops, they (in Addition to all the exaggerated Accounts and Misrepresentations made by them, and Governor Bernard, at the Tumult of the 10th of June) transmitted a fresh, false and inflamed Account of the Defeat of the Custom-House-Officers in attempting to make a Seizure at Capt. Malcom's in 1766? with the tolling of the Old-North Bell as a solemn Warning for a general Insurrection, and all the horrible rebellious Circumstances described as attending that Affair, which in Fact was scarcely noticed in Boston at the Time of it, being so trivial a Matter; and which happened NEAR TWO YEARS before their Board had Existence. But this was ushered into View to strengthen the Ideas they endeavoured to impress upon Government——We have not heard, that any mention was made of Capt. Comptroller Hallowell's contemptible Failure of Duty in being repulsed by the Threats of a few Boys from entering Malcom's House, and making the Seizure, (if any contraband Goods were there) which he ought to have done, notwithstanding the solemn Sound of the Old-North BELL, if it sounded at all.

We hear from Worcester, that on Wednesday last one Lindsay stood in the Pillory there one Hour, after which he received 30 Stripes at the public Whipping, and was then branded in the Hand: His Crime was Forgery.

Yesterday 7-night being the 5th of November, the same was celebrated the next Day by the Discharge of Cannon at Castle-William and the Batteries in this Town and Charlestown. The Effigies of the Pope and a few of his Friends, were exhibited, according to the antient Practice of this Country, but as no Man's "Person or Property was in the least Degree injur'd", the Justices of the Town may make themselves perfectly easy with Regard to any "Blame that may incur upon them"; and it is hoped that the Fears of a certain great Man in the first Particular whether imaginary or real, will be quieted for a twelve month longer——Whether the "PROPER NOTICE was given to the NEW CONSERVATORS OF THE PEACE, to be in Readiness upon this Occasion, we are not told. Those few who were in hopes to make out a Riot, were sadly disappointed, for the "Pageantry" was carried on with Decorum, as has been usual for a Number of Years past.

We hear that a Soldier was handsomely drub'd on Monday last, by one of the young persons who Mr. Draper tells us carried about some Pageantry, for attempting to stop them as they pass'd by the Main Guard, which is still posted at the Door of the State House.

Last Friday died at her Son's in this Town, Mrs. REBECCA AUSTIN, Widow, aged 94 Years—She retained an unusual Sprightliness of Mind and Body till upwards of Ninety——was Daughter of Mr. Samuel Sprague of Malden, and Grand-Daughter of Mr. Richard Sprague, One of the three Brothers, whom Governor Hutchinson mentions in his History of the Massachusetts, as sent by Mr. Endicott, to explore the Country Westward of Charles River in 1628.——Her Remains are to be inter'd at Charlestown, To-Morrow at 4 o'Clock Afternoon.

Extract of a Letter from London, per Capt. Calef, dated August 31, 1769.

"AS I suppose your connections here are such as procure you the earliest intelligence of any transaction respecting America, all I can say is that things at present wear an obscure and gloomy aspect, and the affairs of government seem much perplex'd, as the passions of the people here are so irritated by the conduct of the ministry that nothing will appease them but a total change therein. And the ministers themselves know not how they can get extricated out of the labyrinth of difficulties in which their unprecedented conduct has involved them, and I have good reason to believe, that they sincerely wish the burthen under which the Americans groan, had never been imposed upon them.——But the grand point now to be considered is, how these grievances you complain of can be redressed, consistent with the honor of G. Britain, and so as to prevent your boasting.——If the acts are repealed and your grievances redressed, then you will triumph in the victory you have gain'd, & all future attempts to tax you will prove vain and fruitless; on the other hand if the acts be continued we dread the consequences, as we know not but it may occasion an open rebellion.——This is our present situation, we have erected a gallows for ourselves on the one side, and a deep pit on the other; we may now chuse whether to be hanged or drowned——So that the snares our wise politicians have laid for others will most effectually catch themselves. Nor is this the only instance of their great wisdom, one no less convincing is their not only tolerating a popish priest to officiate in your neighbouring colony, (which is all that they themselves could reasonably have expected) but also appointing him to a mission with a salary of £ 100 per Annum, which is an uncontestable proof to every impartial judge of the ministerial attachment to the popish interest, and that they take pleasure in promoting it—— O foolish Brittanians, how infatuated must you be by prejudice and party spirit, thus to endeavour to influence the minds and alienate the affections of those from you, without whose assistance the very Crown itself would totter on the head of him that wears it, and the throne reel to and fro like a star that had lost its excentrical motion."

Friday last Faneuil-Hall Lottery finish'd Drawing—A CORRECT LIST of the BLANKS and PRIZES may be seen at Edes & Gill's Printing-Office.

ANECDOTES for the Amusement of the CABAL, must be omitted this Week.

RESOLVES of the Representatives of the Colony of Connecticut, unanimously passed in a full House.

RESOLVED, That in the opinion of this House, the sole right of laying taxes on the inhabitants of this colony, is now and ever hath been constitutionally vested in the General Assembly legally convened, according to the ancient and established practice.

RESOLVED, That in the opinion of this house, it ever was and now is the undoubted Right of British American Subjects, to petition their Sovereign for the redress of grievances, and that procuring the concurrence of his Majesty's Colonies, in dutiful and loyal addresses to the throne, praying the royal interposition, in favour of the violated Rights of his American subjects; is a justifiable and laudable attempt to secure the Rights and Liberties of the Colonies, on their ancient and constitutional basis.

RESOLVED, That in the opinion of this house, all trials for treasons, misprisions of treasons, or any other crime whatsoever committed and done in any of his Majesty's provinces or colonies in America, by any person or persons residing therein, ought of right to be had and conducted in and before his majesty's courts, held within such province or colony, according to the established laws of the land: And that securing any persons residing in any of said provinces or colonies, suspected of any crime whatever committed therein, and sending them to places beyond sea for trial, is highly derogatory to the Rights of British subjects, and subversive of the principles of the English constitution, as thereby the trial by juries of the vicinity is taken away, and the person or persons accused deprived of the priviledge of summoning and producing witnesses on such trial: And that the statute made in the 35th year of King Henry the 8th, intitled, An act for trial of treasons committed out of the king's dominions; by law doth not, and of right ought not, to extend to the British colonies in America.

RESOLVED, That in the opinion of this house, the course of justice hath not been interrupted in this his majesty's colony of Connecticut; but the inhabitants therein have ever remained in a due subjection and obedience to the laws of the land; and have ever maintained a most sacred regard and allegiance to the person and family of our most gracious sovereign king George the III. And all representations tending to create in the minds of his Majesty, or his ministers, any distrust of the duty and loyalty of his American subjects, are high-handed attempts to mislead his Majesty, an affront to his royal person, founded in falsehood, and a manifest design to deprive his Majesty's subjects in America of the blessings of the English constitution.

RESOLVED, That in the opinion of this house, the extension of the powers of the courts of admiralty in America, is of most dangerous tendency. The rights, liberties and properties of his Majesty's subjects, being thereby decided by a single judge, whose interest will ever be to determine against the claimants, and they be for ever deny'd the ancient, safe and constitutional method of trial by juries.

ORDERED, That the Speaker of this House do transmit the said Resolutions to the honorable Peyton Randolph, Esq; Speaker of the honorable house of Burgesses of the Colony of Virginia, with an answer to his letter receiv'd in May last; signifying the desire that this house have, ever to maintain the most friendly correspondence, and their hearty attachment to the common cause of American Liberty, in which the Burgesses of Virginia have so nobly distinguished themselves.
